UNDERWEAR—GEO. M. SNOOK & CO.

OUR GREAT SALE . . .

OF CHOICE, NEW "1896"

Muslin and Cambric

. . . UNDERWEAR

Keeps up its record of daily successes in spite of the fact that we are offering SOILED UNDERWEAR from previous seasons at such ridiculously low prices. One thing is evident from this: Women want the LATEST and CHOICEST styles, and when, through improved methods of manufacture, we bring the cost of such down to prices that hardly seem possible, they readily respond.

Remember, that four large cases were added to this department within the past few days. Prices on soiled and odd pieces of Muslin Underwear have been given another downward twist—bound to get rid of it at some price!

Don't forget the Cambric Embroideries, from 5 1-2c to 13 1-2c yard.

ABOUT THIRTY

CHILDREN'S LONG GRETCHENS still here to sell, sizes 6 to 12 years, all new. Will not invoice them, so down they go to precisely one-half price! 75 dozen Children's Heavy Wool Hose 12c pair. Odd lots of Kid Gloves at 48c and 68c pair; are worth from 90c to $1.50 pair. You can buy Fur Capes, Velour Capes, Cloth Capes and Cloth Jackets here without much trouble or money, as styles and prices are right. We're still turning out Blankets, Fur Rugs and Winter Dress Goods at reduced rates.

Ten-cent levy . . . 128 11
Total . . . $1,068 48

Civil and Criminal Suits.

David Gartley has brought a criminal prosecution and also a civil suit for damages in Squire Gillespie's court against John Fleishman, whom he accuses of assault and battery on two occasions, November 3 last and January 12. He asks $300 damages. The cases are both set for January 23, when they will be heard jointly.

Jocko's Wonderful Digestion.

"Jocko," the Atlantic engine house monkey, is a wonder. The other day he got hungry, and made a meal of a chunk of putty as big as a man's fist, a can full of axle grease, a lot of heat foot's oil used on the harness and a paper of acrop tobacco. Then for dessert he chewed up a woolen cap belonging to one of the men. Jocko is still very much alive, in spite of this varied diet.

A Suit Against the City.

In Judge Campbell's court yesterday the case of Hugh Rogers vs. the City of Wheeling was put on trial. He sues for damages on account of an accident which he alleges was due to carelessness of city officials in repairing a street. Messrs. Arnett and Coniff represent the plaintiff and Mr. Boyce the city. Rogers lives at Burn's Mills, O., and is quite an old man.

Bishop Donahue to Preach at Benwood.

Rt. Rev. Bishop Donahue, D. D., bishop of this diocese, paid Father McMenamin, pastor of St. John's church, Benwood, a visit last Wednesday evening. He expressed himself as well pleased with the condition of the parish and the efforts of the people in defraying the debts of the church. He informed the reverend pastor that he would preach in Benwood on the Sunday evening coming, January 19, at 7:30. The good people of that parish will be gratified to hear the bishop in their own church.

Funeral of Mrs. Atkinson.

The funeral of Mrs. Lucy L. Atkinson, whose death at the ripe age of ninety years, has been chronicled in the Intelligencer, took place yesterday afternoon from St. Luke's P. E. church, Island. The body was carried from the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. James P. Wilkinson, to the church, where the services took place. Rev. Jacob Brittingham made a very impressive address, and the services were solemn and pretty throughout. The pallbearers were Judge James P. Rodgers, Lucien Hoge, L. E. Sarda, Myron Hubbard, Rufus Battelle and William G. Wilkinson. The interment was private at Greenwood cemetery.

ST. JOSEPH'S ACADEMY.

Fine Programme Given by the Pupils There Yesterday.

A programme of unusual merit was given by the music class of St. Joseph's Academy in the convent hall yesterday. The Rt. Rev. bishop, the reverend clergy and a number of the friends of the pupils were present, and all were pleased with their progress.

The numbers were choice selections, and those who sang, played, read and recited, gave proof of careful training and diligent application. The programme is given below:

DEAD WHEN FOUND.

A Stranger Dies Suddenly in a House of Bad Repute.

APOPLEXY THE SUPPOSED CAUSE

Suggestions of Possible Poisoning Are Not Borne Out by the Facts So Far as is Known—A Mystery as to His Name Leads to a Cruel Blunder—He Said He Had a Wife and Children at Cromwell, W. Va.—Little Found Out About Him.

Yesterday afternoon Chief of Police Bennett and Lieut. Clemans were called to the house of Clara Moss, at No. 57 Seventeenth street, to investigate the case of a man who died there suddenly. The landlady was very much excited about the case, and the particulars were found out with difficulty. It was learned that the man, who was a stranger, had gone to the house late Thursday night. He was under the influence of liquor and drank a good deal after he came to the house. Finally, about 4 o'clock yesterday morning, he retired to bed. He awoke until yesterday afternoon, and was snoring loud when last seen. About 3:30 in the afternoon an effort was made to awaken him, but he seemed in a stupor. Dr. Bullard was summoned and pronounced him dead.

From papers found in his pockets it was first thought he was a prominent Western man. A telegram was sent there, and somehow a report was at once circulated that the man referred to was dead. On the dead man's shirt and cuffs, however, were found the initials R. H. He had told the women at the house that he had but recently returned from Texas after a long absence. He said also that he had a wife and two children.

County Coroner Schultz was notified of the death, and went to the house and made an inquiry. His investigation developed the fact that the man was Robert Harshberger, of Cromwell, near West Union, Doddridge county. The doctor said death was undoubtedly due to apoplexy, probably caused by hard drinking. From the way he had been breathing while asleep it was suspected he might have taken poison with suicidal intent, but nothing was found to bear out this theory.

A telegram was received by the Intelligencer last night saying the Western man referred to was alive and well. That the rumor of his death under such circumstances should be telegraphed to his home with such slight reason for it was an outrage.

TWO OTHERS ARRESTED

At Bellaire for Complicity in the Robberies Gardner Confessed to.

The "peaching" of Gardner, who was arrested in this city while disposing of stolen goods, resulted in the arrest at Bellaire of two additional men who are not unknown to the police as characters of that kind. They are named respectively Lippman and Kittelwell, and they were taken to St. Clairsville yesterday morning, as was also Gardner, to testify against them before the grand jury now in session. Besides these two there are three others charged with burglary who are being investigated, Arthur Cimmel, William Oliver and Harry Shepherd. The result of the grand jury's investigation will be looked for with interest, as all of these boys have been troublesome, but they manage to escape the penalties of the law very frequently. With what the officers know and Gardner's testimony, the officials feel that a strong case is being made now. Part of this gang, young as some of them are, has served time in the penitentiary.

Continuation of the Anniversary—Some Special Services.

An interesting young men's meeting will be held at the association building, Market and Twentieth streets, at 8 o'clock this evening.

An address will be delivered at the men's meeting to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The anniversary service of the association will be continued to-morrow evening. Appropriate sermons will be preached at the Unit, Methodist and English Lutheran churches.

On Thursday evening, the 23d, the best concert of the association course will be given. The company is composed of star artists. Jessie Couthoul is a celebrated leader. The other members of the company are musicians, soloists of marked ability. Seats will be placed on sale Tuesday morning.

The annual state convention of the Associations of West Virginia, Maryland, District of Columbia and Delaware will be held at Hagerstown, the 24th, 25th and 26th.

"On the Mississippi."

A floating theatre on the river is one of the numerous novel features shown in Thomas H. Davis & William T. Keogh's elaborate production of William Haworth's new sensational melodrama, "On the Mississippi." This play abounds with things that have not hitherto found their way to the stage. Theatre goers in this city will have an opportunity to see it at the Opera House next Thursday night.

In Olden Times.

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently cure habitual constipation, well informed people will not buy any other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system.

There isn't such a variety of Underwear in any other store in Wheeling, and there never has been such a broad sweeping cut as this, but we do not want to be caught in the spring thaw with too much stock on hand. So we will lose when the losing will benefit you.

A FEW DAYS LONGER of our great Suit and Overcoat Sale. Suits and Overcoats that were $22, $20, $18 and $15, at $12.48. Suits and Overcoats that were $12, $11 and $10, at $8.48. These are Suits and Overcoats that you would have to pay the tailor more than double for their equals. Certainly extremes are meeting in this great event—the best value for the least money. There is nothing to compare with it—because it takes better stock than other houses—takes more courage than they have got—takes us and our pushing policy to father such a sacrifice.

Need we say your money back for the slightest cause? Guess you know by this time that we mean that.
